Peninsula store owners and managers met last week with Monterey Peninsula College administrators to consider the formation of an advisory committee for the "earn as you learn" program at the junior college.

The group agreed to develop a brochure to explain the work and learn program to high school students, also to aid the college in setting up a training program for student Christmas employment in retail stores.

Mrs. Gladys McCloud, proprietor of a Carmel dress shop, was named chairman of the advisory committee. Also at the meeting was Howard Brunn, Carmel men's clothing store owner.

Among the 20 students currently participating in the program are Russell Wise, Charles Hoisington and Winston Sargent of Carmel.

Monterey Peninsula's annual welcome to monarch butterflies that winter in this area will take place in Pacific Grove on Saturday. Costumed children will parade through the downtown area starting at 10:30 o'clock to Robert Down School where the six Pacific Grove P-TA units will hold their yearly Butterfly Bazaar.

Chairman Charles Myrick of the Carmel Forestry Commission has called a special meeting at 9:00 o'clock on Saturday morning. Councilman Francis Whitaker and Eben Whittlesey, members of the council's lands and improvements committee, will meet with forest commissioners. At the last council meeting, Mr. Whitaker indicated annoyance with forestry commissioners who, in a year and a half, had failed to recommend provisions for an ordinance to control the cutting of trees on private property.

Automation Rushes Report Cards At Carmel High Now

It's finally happened. Automation has caught up with the school report card.

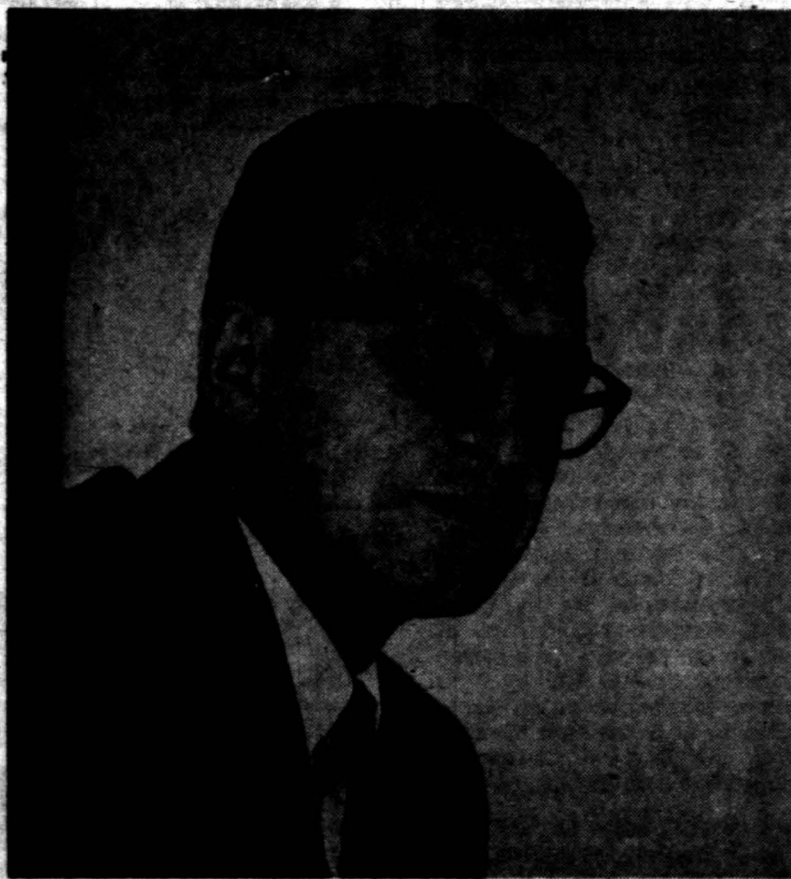

Warren Edwards, principal of Carmel High School, said last night that the new cards for use in the IBM machines were received yesterday and will be used for grades sent to parents of high school students in November.

Reporting to the Carmel School Board on his recent attendance at a basic machine operations course presented by the IBM branch in San Francisco, Edwards said, "It now takes a full month of secretarial time from the day the grades come from the teachers to the time they are finally filed in the student's permanent record."

"Use of the machines," he said, "will cut this to two or three days."

Asked by trustee Clayton B. Neill Jr. if the new system will

Underground Parking Will Save City Atmosphere Carmel Architect Claims

By RAYLYN PENNEY

Carmel needs more than a parking plan, more than a mall and more than improved circulation of traffic. The village needs "re-humanizing" and, although it is now far ahead of most other towns and cities in what it offers the human being, it would fall far behind if it chooses the piecemeal measures of expediency rather than long-term planning.

These are the thoughts of Carmel architect Marcel Sedletzky, who says he believes and hopes he speaks for many. He also speaks, he says, not with the unconcern of an outsider but with the sympathetic attention of a Carmelite trying to put his own house in order.

With vivid description, he painted a swift vision of Carmel as it might be, perhaps as it must be: an attractive core of human-scale buildings ("We're ahead because we already have these.") accessible to pedestrians only and encompassing several streets, a ring of parking space on the periphery, and transition and residential zones beyond.

"Most cities now have a machine environment, not a human environment. Neon lights, the style and placement of signs are for people riding in cars, not pedestrians. Cities are not only unfriendly but also unsafe for human beings on foot."

"Until recently no one paid serious attention to the predictions that the city as a human habitat would disappear. It has crept upon us like a suddenly looming monster and frightened us. And frightened people react by reaching for emergency remedies."

"Additional parking, solving traffic circulation problems, making a mall of a city block, centralization of business—every one of these has some validity."

"It is necessary, however, to attack all these problems at once and to reverse the situation completely, recapturing the human environment from the grasp of the machine."

"This may seem ruthless, but,

Carmel High Graduate Joins New Zealand University Faculty

Kurt von Meier will go early in 1962 to Auckland, New Zealand, where he has accepted an appointment as assistant professor at Auckland University College, a unit of New Zealand University.

News of the new job reached his mother, Mrs. Julian von Meier of Carmel, this week from Princeton University, where Kurt is currently a graduate instructor in the Department of Art and Archeology. At Auckland, he wrote, he will be assistant professor in the history and theory of fine arts, beginning in late February, the start of the academic term there.

The three-year appointment will offer long summer vacations, Kurt said, from October to February, during which the von Meiers, Kurt and his wife, Hildegard, have additional plans to visit her parents in Berlin where Kurt will also complete work toward his doctoral degree.

Kurt graduated from both Sunset School and Carmel High School then studied for a semester at Monterey College. He transferred to the University of California and after completing his sophomore year enlisted in the Navy.

During the next two years, he was stationed aboard ships in the Orient, also taught in the Navy's language school in San Diego, his knowledge of Spanish enabling him to instruct sailors from Puerto Rico.

After this, Kurt returned to the

Board Races Rain To Keep Mid-Aug. Jr. High Promise

The new junior high school at the mouth of Carmel Valley may not be completed in time for classes at the beginning of the term next fall. But despite the threat of winter rains and a late date for beginning construction, November 27, trustees of the Carmel Unified School District last night promised to do everything possible to expedite the project.

Austrian Club Sends Brigitte Ottitzky To Greet Carmel Lions

A visitor to Carmel this week was Miss Brigitte Ottitzky, student of political science at the University of Vienna, who was guest speaker for the Carmel Lions Club on Tuesday evening and has been a house guest of the Ted Fehrings during her stay.

Brigitte, an attractive, statuesque, blonde young woman, draws on a sizeable fund of detailed information and good judgment to answer the most intricate questions on European sociological and political affairs.

No stranger to American college life, she spent the academic year of 1958-59 attending Olympic College at Bremerton, Washington, on a political science scholarship, and has spent the past few weeks visiting West Coast friends she had met in America during her prior trip.

A resident of Steyr, Austria (described by Brigitte as a town of about 40,000 with a suburban atmosphere), Miss Ottitzky was more than a casual visitor to the Lions' meeting.

She is the daughter of the president of the Steyr Lions Club, Dr. Ing Kurt Ottitzky, and it has been the Ottitzky family with whom Janet Fehring, daughter of the Ted Fehrings, has been staying in Austria.

Janet recently visited a meeting of the Steyr Lions Club to present

Merchants React Differently To Paying Double Business License Fee For Municipal Parking Lots

This week members of the Carmel Business Association received a report from the group's parking committee recommending that the city council be asked to double present business license fees for the next five years, the added amount to be earmarked by the council solely for the acquisition of parking lots, and, further, that the city match these funds, this amount also to be used solely for parking lots.

Ballots were enclosed with the report. Members were asked to return signed ballots as soon as possible so that the business association may learn if their membership approves the double license fee plan. If so, the association will present their proposal to the city council next month.

This plan would provide, the report continues, $80,000 per year for direct purchase, lease-purchase or lease of property by the city for parking lots.

Yesterday the Pine Cone asked a group of Carmel merchants and businessmen, all of whom operate long-established firms, to give Construction bids on the $1,350,000 school were advertised for this week by Superintendent of Schools Stuart Mitchell. Architect Thomas Elston said last night some five contractors have already received sets of specifications on the school and at least nine more have asked for them.

Bids will be opened Wednesday evening, November 22, at 7:30 o'clock in the Music Room of the High School.

Nor has hope for meeting the original completion date in mid-August with occupancy in early September been entirely abandoned by the board.

President Grant Fletcher said, "We are committed to make every effort to make the August 15 date because of the promises made in the bond issue."

The board voted unanimously last night to ask for a base bid covering a 12-month period (which would mean a completion date about next December 1 for the school), and an alternate bid based on a nine-month period, both with a $200 per day penalty clause for late completion. No bonus would be offered on either the 12-month or 9-month bid.

Meanwhile, trustees and architect worried about winter rains. The construction date, planned originally for fall and now advanced almost to the beginning of winter, brought warnings from several trustees that an early onset of the rainy season could hold up foundations and grading for weeks.

Reminded that the past two or three Carmel winters have been

STIRLING MOSS WINS PACIFIC GRAND PRIX

Defending champion Stirling Moss negotiated the hairpin turns of the 1.9 mile Laguna Seca track with the poise and skill of a real champion last Sunday as he repeated his 1960 Pacific-Grand Prix triumph to pocket the $7,000 which goes to the winner of the colorful Monterey Peninsula race. Before over 70,000 spectators, Moss turned back a determined challenge by runner-up Dan Gurney who placed second in both heats of the $20,000 go-around. Australia's Jack Brabham, winner of the Riverside Grand Prix, the week before, picked up third place, followed by New Zealand's Bruce McLaren and Roger Penske of Gladwyne, Pennsylvania.

Plagued by brake trouble for the last 15 laps of the second heat and going with a faulty throttle in the first heat, Moss had to call on all his skill to get his Lotus Monte Carlo home in front of the talented field. With Gurney breathing down his neck all the way, the cool Londoner put on an amazing driving exhibition to again show that he is the master of the cozy Laguna Seca course.

Carmel Valley's Ed Leslie repeated his Riverside Grand Prix win as he piloted his Gemini formula junior to a convincing victory in Saturday's amateur races. In notching the win, Leslie defeated his Peninsula racing buddies, Jack Flaherty and J. P. Kunstle, who finished fourth and sixth respectively.

Attesting to its reputation as one of the safest courses for drivers and spectators on the racing circuit, there were no injuries during the three-day event which was witnessed by record crowds. There were plenty of near-misses and brushes with the haybales, but the high safety standards enforced at Laguna Seca payed off with safe and sane races.

KING CITY EDGES PADRE VARSITY; JAYVEES WIN

King City High School's one-man gridiron demon, a bruising fullback named Jim Mankins, did everything but carry out the water bucket last Friday night at King City where the Mustangs put an abrupt halt to Carmel's 36-game win streak and just about assured the Blue & White of the 1961 football title. The Mustangs eventually notched the win on the strength of Mankins' successful conversion run as the final score had Ernie Piper's lads in front, 14 to 13. However, game statistics favored the hosts in nearly every department with the amazing Mankins doing just about everything for the winners.

While the Padre varsity was stopped for the first time in five years, Coach Fred Rainer's junior-varsity crew continued its winning ways by clipping the tough King City Ponies, 9 to 7, on the strength of a heads-up tackle by Gary Mumford which forced a King City safety and gave the Little Padres the coveted victory.

Carmel's lightweight team made it two-out-of-three over King City Saturday morning as it clipped the Mustang lights, 25 to 7. With John Thomas, a speedy halfback, and John Jones, a rangy end, scoring the touchdowns, the Carmel lightweight squad turned in a fine team effort to upset the hefty King City gang.

In the crucial varsity tilt, played before a capacity crowd at the King City Memorial Stadium, the Mustangs broke into a 14-0 lead in the first quarter as Mankins put on a blazing performance to personally account for all the points. Down, 14-0, at the half, the Padres put on a spirited rally in the second-half to score two touchdowns and make good on one conversion. George Pollock, All-League halfback, registered the first TD for the Padres with a three-yarder through the middle of the bulky Mustang defense. Rick Baldwin's kick was good for the conversion point and the Carmel gang was back in the game. A Dan Holman-to-Rich Shively pass provided the second Padre score, but Baldwin's kick was short and the Mustang lead held up the rest of the way.

Individual defensive heroes abounded for the Padres with the smallest halfback of them all, Ted Leidig, proving more than a match for the big and fast King City ball-carriers. Time after time, the diminutive halfback made touchdown-saving tackles to keep the Padres within reach of the winners. Linebacker George Pollock turned in his best defensive game of the year and had the fearsome Mankins well under control in the second-half. Up front, it was the inspired play of Dave Harris, Ray Eaton and Pete Morse which served to take some of the sting from the Mustang attack. This trio more than held its own with the fast-charging King City forwards and shut off the running lanes for Mankins' power shots.

Carmel's undefeated junior-varsity started in its usual slow manner and didn't get a touchdown until the third quarter. Quarterback Bob Larson called his own number on an option play for the initial score and then passed to end Phil Zobel for the conversion point. King City hit the board in the final period and it then became apparent that Mumford's tackle which forced a King City safety was the big play of the game. The King City Jayvees were big and tough and this one was tough and go all the way. With the Mustang junior-varsity out of the way, the Little Padres have easy sailing on their way to another B-division title.

This Saturday night the Padre squads travel to Santa Cruz to do battle with the San Lorenzo Valley Cougars at the Harvey West Stadium. The Carmel lightweights take on the Cougar Babes at 4:30; the jayvees take over at 6:00 o'clock; and the varsity fray is slated to hit the turf at approximately 8:00 o'clock. Harvey West Stadium is just north of Santa Cruz and can be reached by staying on the Highway 1 freeway which skirts Santa Cruz.

CARMEL PONY LEAGUE

Annual meeting of the Carmel Pony League for election of directors for the coming year will be held Monday night at 8:00 o'clock in Carmel High School cafeteria. All parents of league members and others interested are invited.

CLEAT MARKS

The Carmel High-San Lorenzo Valley game originally scheduled for this Friday night at the Santa Cruz Harvey West Stadium has been changed to Saturday night at the same place. Conflict with the crucial Monterey High-Santa Cruz High tilt at Santa Cruz High occasioned the shift in the Carmel-San Lorenzo date. The Padre-Cougar varsity fray should be quite an aerial battle between quarterbacks. Dan Holman and Steve Rodriguez. Arguments have been waged from the beginning of the season as to which boy is the top passer in the CCAL B-division and Saturday night's fracas should settle the question. Rodriguez was an All-League quarterback last season and was deemed a cinch to repeat this year. However, junior Dan Holman moved up from the Carmel junior-varsity to the varsity and immediately took the spotlight away from Rodriguez as he zeroed in on the Padre pass receivers. Rodriguez is a better runner than Little Dan, but Holman can match the poised Cougar quarterback at throwing touchdown aeriels. Pacific Grove's four-game win streak was halted in convincing fashion at Hollister last Friday night when the Haybalers clipped Coach Charley Howell's ambitious eleven, 32 to 6. Matched with second-division opponents in their first three games, the Breakers were no match for the beefy Hollister crew and were out of contention after the first quarter. Hollister proved it has material as good as any in the league and

GOLDEN MOMENTS

In California history—as business boomed in 1900, society expressed prosperity with new ideas in gracious living.

In California life—today's ideal of gracious living includes beer, the beverage of moderation. Beer means enjoyment... prosperity. Last year, for example, brewers purchased over 68,000 tons of our farm products—another reason why beer means better living for all in the "Golden State."

like surgery for a serious illness, it is our only real hope. Also like surgery, if the illness is allowed to progress too far without it, it may become hopeless," he said.

"This 'de-humanizing' process all came about," he added, "when our overfilled cities started to spill over into the suburbs, leaving the cities to business. But this drew too many autos and the traffic congestion forced even the business to start moving to the suburbs. But then we realized that cities are after all our centers of culture and human thought. We can't leave them to die."

"That's why all over America we have people starting to try to do something about reclaiming the cities for people, especially in the past decade when we have had more planners and more schools offering study and research in city planning."

"Planning for the re-humanizing of a city requires two teams, one to develop the ideas and the other to accept or reject them. Just as the producing team must be an educated one, so must the other in order to be able to make an intelligent judgment. Everybody should be ready to serve one group or the other," he said. "This problem deserves the attention of all men."

Focusing his own attention on Carmel in particular, Sedletzky said that it has many of the ills of other places, but not all. Its human environment is still intact. It's one place where the downtown pedestrian is still surrounded by human-scale buildings. This atmosphere, not the scenery, is the most attractive aspect of our village, he said. If we don't do something to save it, the business of tourism will fall to cities which already have "rehumanized" their central areas, or at least have adopted plans for it, like Fort Worth, Texas, and Philadelphia. They will acquire the character and attract the visitors, while Carmel, if left in its present state, would seem unattractive by comparison.

About current plans to locate off-street parking areas near the central district, he said such action taken separately without solving the other problems too might not be in the best interest in the long run. Such parking lots might have a poor effect on surrounding properties and on traffic flow.

An advocate of underground parking wherever it's possible, he said, "Carmel is one of the few places where underground parking is feasible because of geographic conditions. In many places no ramps would be necessary, since access could be made from existing street levels."

"With all the present redevelopment underway," he said, "consideration of this in particular is urgent."

"Although these ideas coincide with others, they are my own opinions, and I present them because, as I say, this kind of planning is and should be everybody's business."

Marcel Sedletzky, son of a well-known Polish architect, was born in Russia, homeland of his mother, a doctor. Prior to and during World War II, the family lived in Poland, Yugoslavia, Germany and Austria. ("I've seen the de-humanizing of cities taking place for other reasons than the customary American ones. In Russia and Nazi Germany the human environment was deliberately discarded in order to create a monument to an idea.")

Marcel studied architecture in Europe, completing his academic work at the University of Cincinnati. While living in Los Angeles, he was with Victor Gruen Associates. A member of the American Institute of Architects, he has been a Carmel area resident for the past four years and opened his own architectural office about a year ago.

The Sedletzky household in Carmel Hills is a lively one. In addition to the architect's Swedish-born wife, Gunnel, an interior designer, there are the couple's daughters, Helen, 9, and Ludmilla, just turned 6, and a German shepherd with a Russian name, Laska, along with a couple of Swedish and/or Polish cats whose origins and eccentricities are too bewildering to consider.

Adding to the international flavor of the Sedletzky home is the fact that both daughters study and speak Russian. Among other things, the girls say, this is very useful for talking to Laska, who responds to Russian words only.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN MEET IN S.F.

Next week 500 Republican women from 37 Northern California counties will attend the final 1961 quarterly meeting of the California Federation of Republican Women, Northern division, at the Hilton Inn, San Francisco International Airport, Tuesday and Wednesday. Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Thomas N. Barrows of Carmel will conduct a workshop on leadership training.

Local Clergy, Choirs, Bishop Pike Assist In All Saints' Rites

A week of events celebrating the burning of the mortgage and the consecration of the church begins next week in the local Episcopal parish, All Saints' Church.

Next Wednesday, All Saints' Day, the parish patronal festival will be observed with services throughout the day. Holy Communion will be celebrated at 8:00 and 10:30 o'clock and at 6:30. At 8:00 o'clock the solemn procession and consecration will be held with the Bishop of California, the Right Reverend James A. Pike, as officiant and preacher.

Members of the clergy and choirs from many Peninsula churches will participate, including the Church of the Wayfarer and the Presbyterian Church. A message of greeting will be read from the Carmel Mission Basilica, written by the Most Reverend Harry Clinch, bishop. At a reception following in the parish hall, the music will be provided by Manuel Campos.

Highlighting preparations for the event will be a Sunday afternoon gala musicale matinee to be held at the Palo Corona Ranch of Stuyvesant Fish at 2:30 o'clock. John Melville is in charge of arrangements; the Reverend H. M. M. Nicholas is in charge of the entertainment. The musicale and party will be held as a benefit for All Saints' parish dayschool, the Bishop Kip School.

Parkway Committee Elects Officers, Seeks More Members

The Monterey Peninsula Parkway Committee elected officers Monday evening at a meeting in Monterey Library. Elwood J. Wilson of Carmel is president of the group that is attempting to persuade the state to convert the proposed Monterey Peninsula freeway into a landscaped parkway. Rodrick Dewar is treasurer.

Other persons from Carmel on the committee's council of trustees are Rear Admiral C. W. Fisher (USN Ret.) president of the Carmel Citizens Committee; the Reverend David Hill, rector of All Saints' Parish; and Gordon Reid.

Membership in the non-partisan parkway group now numbers 13,000 persons, Wilson announced. He is seeking a meeting with Governor Edmund G. Brown and representatives of the parkway committee to try to prevent six interchanges in a five-mile stretch of the California Highway Commission's proposed freeway on the Monterey Peninsula.

Membership forms for distribution throughout the state may be obtained at Putnam and Raggett's and Fortier's Drug Store in Carmel, he added. The committee hopes people throughout California will join the effort to convert the freeway to parkway status.

Diablo Valley JC last Saturday night and suffered their first league loss of the current season. The Vikings clipped the Lobos, 13 to 6, in spite of a fine second-half comeback on the part of the MPC gang. MPC's loss coupled with

Hartnell College's win over Cabrillo JC puts Coach Arvin Smith's Panthers atop the Coast JC standings and sets the stage for a tense MPC-Hartnell crucial on November 18. . . . The 1961 CCAL A-division grid champion is most likely to emerge from the Monterey-Santa-Cruz battle which will unfold at Santa Cruz High this Friday night. Coach Dan Albert's Treaders are slightly favored to clip the Cardinals in this one, but Coach Bill Wood has a solid grid machine at Santa Cruz and could make the going rather sticky for the Green & Gold. Monterey's blazing backfield speed will be matched against the best line in the CCAL when these two top prep squads get together. Monterey holds a convincing win over San Francisco's Lowell High while Santa Cruz handed out the same treatment to San Francisco's Poly High. At the present time, Lowell and Poly are undefeated in the San Francisco AAA League so local grid filberts can judge how Monterey and Santa Cruz rate in Northern California.

save any money, Edwards said no, but that there is practically no limit to the uses the machines can be put to in paring down time spent on tedious clerical operations that come up in schools.

In addition to grading, he said, IBM machines will eventually be applied to attendance accounting and scheduling.

In explaining the operation, which will be used only in the high school this year but later is expected to be adopted in Carmel's elementary schools, Edwards said all the teacher does is make marks with an electric pencil on the IBM cards, indicating the grades. The cards will then be processed on machinery, part of which the school now has and part of which will be lent by Monterey Peninsula College.

From the student's point of view, though, not much change can be expected when the new system replaces the old, except that the good (or not so good) news will reach home much faster.

YOUTHS HURT IN ACCIDENT

A one-car accident at the intersection of Carmel Valley Road and Highway 1 at 12:50 o'clock this morning injured three youths assigned to the Naval Air Facility in Monterey.

According to the Monterey office of the California Highway Patrol, a car driven by Jack L. Parrott, 17, which was west-bound on the Valley road, went out of control and struck a guard rail, ricocheting from the rail into a rock bank.

Passengers in the Parrott car were Dennis Arnold and Edward L. Dorothy. All three were taken to Fort Ord Hospital, which listed Dorothy's condition as serious today, the extent of his injuries undetermined. His two companions received major injuries, according to the hospital, but were listed in "good" condition today. No reason was given for the accident. The car was demolished.

KPFA Listener Group Progress Report in MPC Library Tonight

After three months of battling to protect reception of KPFA-FM throughout the Monterey Bay area, the KPFA listener committee will report latest developments this evening at 8:00 o'clock at a public meeting in the library of Monterey Peninsula College. The committee was formed in July at a public meeting called to face threatened interference with KPFA's signal by a proposed local FM outlet for Family Stations, Inc., which now operates KEAR.

Action taken with the FCC and results of petitions and letters sent to Newton N. Minow, FCC head, will be reported to KPFA listeners at tonight's meeting. The local KPFA group will announce plans for a folk-music jamboree as a benefit and means for raising funds in the continuing battle to keep their favorite radio station on the air.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

Bruce Catton probably knows as much about the American Civil War as any man living today, and certainly he has done more writing about it than any other man. He is now doing a long history of the war in several volumes, the first of which has just appeared. The entire work is to be called The Centennial History of the Civil War, and it is being published by Doubleday. The first volume is entitled The Coming Fury, and deals with the events leading to the war. The author handles events as if he were weaving an immense tapestry, with ever increasing images woven in infinite detail.

This series is one which no library could omit from its collection, and the surprising thing is that the books will be written with such style that even the casual reader will be delighted with them. Great drama unfolds here before your very eyes.

The career of Sir John Bagot Glubb reminds us somewhat of that of Lawrence of Arabia. Sir John went to Iraq in 1920 as an officer of the British army. A few years later he resigned from the army and began a career of service to the Arab world which lasted until he was dismissed by King Hussein in 1956. He now resides in Britain and has recently completed a book about his life which he has entitled War in the Desert. The book is more than the life of a devoted man, it is the story of the affairs of the Arab world, their wars, their raids, their people.

Since we are talking about history, we should mention another book on the subject which is called Digging for History and was written by Edward Bacon. This is ancient history as revealed by archeological excavations. The pictures are fascinating.

The way some people make a living would cause the rest of us to pause and consider. A man named Ionides makes his living by hunting snakes for zoos and museums. He loves snakes, can talk about them for hours, but knowing how deadly they are he never carries a watch. For him there is no time but now. His story was written by Alan Wykes, a photographer, and the book is called Snake Man. Most of us are fascinated by snakes. Here is a book about them.

The other day we stumbled upon a small book called an Almanac for Thirty-Niners which was done by the Federal Writers Project in 1938. That year the days of the week came on the same dates as they do this year. October 26, same date as today, had this paragraph: "No one bothered about it when a runaway Russian sailor fell into the 20-foot well at Alfred Ellis' hotel one stormy night this month in 1846 until a washerwoman began to complain about the water." It seems that even in 1846 they were running away!

United Churchwomen's World Community Day Program, November 3

A talk on Latin America and a panel discussion on the United Nations will be included in the World Community Day program of United Churchwomen of the Monterey Peninsula on November 3 in St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Pacific Grove. The meeting will open at 10:30 o'clock in the morning. All interested women are invited.

Following the opening worship service, Carlos Robaino from the language school will report on Latin America, the area of this year's special study by the churchwomen, with emphasis on politics and education. The panel discussion on the United Nations will be presented at 1:00 o'clock by Lieutenant Colonel E. Bibb, Dr. Reuben

Five members of the nursing staff of the Peninsula Community Hospital are seen above peering through one of the light wells on the 10,000 square foot roof of the new hospital now being built at the top of Carmel Hill. They are Penny Dion, Dorothy Atwood, Opal Crafts, Margaret Keppler and Nathalie Farley.

The nurses also inspected locations of strategically placed nurses' stations on a tour of the new building. These are to be equipped with electronic instant communication systems between nurses and patients in the 300 private room hospital.

Funds for the two and a half million dollar project are being raised by private subscription. The hospital construction is to be completed by April.

Johnson and Dr. Leach. The group's technical assistance program for underprivileged peoples also will be discussed.

A modest-priced lunch will be served at noon by the women of St. Mary's Parish. Any person who so desires may bring her own lunch, however. Reservations for those either buying or bringing lunch must be made by telephoning FR 5-3404, by Wednesday.

The offering made during luncheon will go for leprosy care and cure. A special relief project of the churchwomen is the preparation of school kits and clothing for boys and girls, five to eight years old, in the Caribbean area. In addition, good old clothing for all ages is accepted by the group for distribution by Church World Service.

Aranka Marosan

Services were held last Friday for Mrs. Aranka Anna Marosan of Carmel, who died last week in a Salinas hospital. She had been ill several weeks. A resident of Carmel for the past three years, Mrs. Marosan was a native of Hungary where she was born February 28, 1892.

She is survived by a son, Eugene George Marosan of Pebble Beach. Requiem Mass was celebrated Friday morning in San Carlos Church, followed by burial in Mission Memorial Park.

Col. Campbell

Colonel Jefferson C. Campbell, a resident of Carmel for the past 14 years, died unexpectedly last Saturday evening at his home near Guadalupe Street and Seventh Avenue.

He was pronounced dead around 6:00 o'clock in the evening on arrival at Community Hospital Annex where he had been taken by Red Cross Ambulance operated by the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department.

A career army officer, and a native of Granite, Oklahoma, where he was born May 3, 1892, Colonel Campbell graduated from Oklahoma State College and was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army, August 15, 1917. He served in France in World War I and was stationed at the Monterey Presidio from 1922 to 1926. During World War II he had replacement command of the Army Forces in the Western Pacific.

He had resided in Carmel since his retirement from the Army in 1947. Among survivors are his wife, Mrs. Anne L. Campbell of Carmel; two daughters, Miss Margot Campbell of Berkeley and Mrs. Judith McIlvenna of Palo Alto; a brother, Samuel D. Campbell of Farmington, New Mexico; a sister, Mrs. Ruby Young of Miami, Florida, and a granddaughter, Margot McIlvenna of Palo Alto.

Funeral services were held this morning in the Paul Funeral Chapel with Carmel Post 512, American Legion, officiating. Graveside rites with full military honors were scheduled for this afternoon in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

Friends may make contributions to the memory of Colonel Campbell in the form of donations to the Carmel Youth Center, P. O. Box 2399, Carmel.

Richard Lyon

Funeral rites were held Monday for Richard W. Lyon of Carmel Valley who died last Thursday in San Francisco. Mr. Lyon, a resident of Carmel Valley for the past dozen years, was born in Grand Junction, Colorado, on August 17, 1903.

He had been an executive with the Blue Shield medical plan in San Francisco since 1942. Prior to that he had been with the Agricultural Health and Medical Workers Association of California and Arizona.

Mr. Lyon leaves his wife, Marjorie; two daughters, Mrs. John Anderson of Monterey and Mrs. David Junkin of Pacific Grove; a son, Willis Lyon of Monterey, and seven grandchildren. Services at the Dorney and Farlinger Memorial Chapel were conducted by the Rev. Peter Farmer of St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church of Carmel Valley.

Music On The Peninsula

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

James Schwabacher, popular tenor from San Francisco, was presented in recital Friday by the music department of Monterey Peninsula College to an interested audience, made up largely of persons who know him as leading tenor in the Carmel Bach Festival for many years. Blessed with an attractive personality and experience in presentation, Schwabacher had chosen songs of refreshing variety and unhackneyed use.

Even the four Schubert lieder were ones seldom heard but among this composer's gems and were presented with conviction and musicianship in their poetical content. It is not necessarily the big voice that creates the best delivery and Schwabacher's sensitive lyric quality has a charm of tonal nuance artistically applied in projecting his concept of poetry. Herein lies the power of the greatest vocal artist in recital or opera. Both American David Bispham and the German lieder singer Wulner were considered to have very little voice, yet they both became internationally famous because of their intelligent and dramatic presentations.

The opening group of Purcell songs through those by Abbatini, Rossi, Rontani, Scariatti and Schubert were followed by Four Hymns for tenor viola and piano, profound contributions by the English composer Vaughn Williams, on poems by Taylor, Watts, Crashaw and Bridges from the Greek, sung with reverence, and played with full sympathy by violist Germain Provost. Finally four songs by the French composer Poulenc, who, while he wrote other works, is perhaps best known for his lyric charm. To strong recalls from his audience, Schwabacher pleased more than ever by an infectious exuberance in the Strauss waltz from The Tales of Vienna Woods. Allen Gilchrist, pianist, accompanied the entire recital.

Out of San Francisco have come many fine artists among whom widely known today is the outstanding violinist David Abel, heard Sunday in the second recital of Bach Sonatas at Nepenthe with Margaret Fabrizio, harpsichordist. I do not know of any violinist I'd rather listen to than Abel with his perfect legato, flawless technique and depth of tone on his fine Guarnerius violin from which he made the Bach phrases sing with beauty and feeling together with Fabrizio's sympathetic performance at the harpsichord. Three of the sonatas had been given the previous Sunday leaving the fifth, second and sixth which completed all those Bach wrote for violin and harpsichord. The filled house both afternoon and evening could not applaud enough, not just because Abel is known locally for his appearances with the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra and his recent appearances with Eastern major orchestras, but because of his refined manner in serious rendition with grace and true humility.

The final offering this season at Nepenthe on October 27 at 4:30 and 8:30 o'clock is the Japanese Fujinami Midori in classic and modern Japanese dances; for which the now enlarged floor on the terrace will be a beautiful setting with the coast and mountains for background.

Breath Of Spring Next Circle Play Opens November 3

Breath of Spring, a comedy by English playwright Peter Coke, will follow Shakespeare's The Taming of the Shrew at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre. Set to open November 3, Coke's play blends farce and crime in a way that has become familiar to American audiences through such British films as The Lavender Hill

Mob and Kind Hearts and Coronets.

An Alec Guinness flavor of tongue-in-cheek eccentricity pervades the plot. Chief characters are highly respectable lodgers in a staid London apartment who are accidentally and irresistibly drawn into a scheme for stealing furs from their wealthy neighbors and turning the profits over to charity.

Movie-goers may recognize Breath of Spring as the script upon which the recent Terry-Thomas film, Make Mine Mink, was based. Previous to its screen success, the play enjoyed a long run in London's West End, with the distinguished comedienne Athlene Seyler in a starring role.

Guess how many steps a clothes dryer can save you: 93 □ 207 □ 622 □

Saving time and energy aren't the only reasons dryers are so wonderful! A gas or electric dryer lets you dry clothes in minutes—rain or shine, day or night. You can dry almost anything because new dryers reduce heat as clothes get dry . . . protect even the most delicate fabrics. Laundry comes out so soft, so wrinkle-free that little or no ironing is needed for many things (nice for big-families)! Best of all, each time you wash a load of clothes, a dryer can save you 622 "time and motion" steps over old-fashioned laundry-lugging, clothes-pinning methods!

Deaver-McDowell Wedding

Now at home in Carmel after a mid-October wedding are the former Nancy Carol Deaver, second grade teacher at River School, and her husband, Gerald L. McDowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle W. McDowell of Casper, Wyoming.

Mrs. McDowell, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Deaver of Balboa Island, California, and her bridegroom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. John M. Doyle of Newport Beach, friends of the bride, during the wedding ceremony on October 14 at Carmel Presbyterian Church. Dr. Joseph M. Ewing officiated.

A Carmel resident and River teacher for the past four years, Nancy attended schools in Balboa Island and is a graduate of Occidental College, Gerald, just back from a 21-month military assignment in Turkey and now stationed until January at Fort Ord, attended Purdue University and the University of Colorado. He will return to his studies following his military service.

Knudsen's Back From Trip

A trip to their former home in British Columbia was the vacation choice of Mr. and Mrs. Aage (Andy) Knudsen who returned home Saturday after a two-week tour, up the inland route and back by way of the coast.

Accompanying the Carmel pair was Mrs. Knudsen's niece, Miss Gail Yorgensen of Copenhagen, who has been a guest of the Knudsens for the past two months.

Surprise of the trip, Mr. Knudsen says, was meeting his neighbors in business, Carl and Dorothy Rohr, in Vancouver and again in Seattle. (The Rohr Electric Shop is across the street from the Knudsens' Dolores Bakery.) The Rohrs also returned to Carmel on Saturday.

Vancouver was the home of Andy and Helene Knudsen just after they came to this hemisphere from Denmark about six years ago. They also lived briefly in San Francisco before coming to Carmel.

Kappa Alpha Theta Pledge

Rodine (Roddy) McArthur of Carmel has pledged Kappa Alpha Theta sorority at the University of the Pacific, Stockton.

Miss McArthur is a sophomore biology major at the 110-year-old institution, and the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Roderick M. McArthur of Flanders Drive in Carmel Hills.

Nancy Penoyer in New Play

Busy Nancy Penoyer, veteran television performer and senior at Marymount College in Palos Verdes Estates, has been given the leading role in Marymount's forthcoming play, Moorborn, the story of the Bronte sisters, according to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Penoyer of Carmel Valley.

A bride-to-be, Nancy, who during the past year has had her own television show originating from a channel in Southern California, will wed Fred Curt Blau, Jr., of Studio City, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Blau Sr., on a date yet to be named. The couple's engagement was announced recently.

This week Nancy was to serve as director of Over the Teacups, one of a series of one-act plays given by the college in the campus Pro Tem Theater.

Ricklefses in Arizona

At the Grand Canyon this week to attend a convention which began today are Mr. and Mrs. Robert U. Ricklefs of Pebble Beach. The headmaster of Robert Louis Stevenson School is one of some 400 instructors and administrators of private schools from 21 states meeting October 19-22 under joint sponsorship of the Independent Schools Education Board, the National Council of Independent Schools, the Council for Religion in Independent Schools and the host group, Arizona Association of Independent Schools. In addition to the local representative, California will have 107 other teachers and administrators from 33 private schools at the conference.

Garden Club Trip

A bus trip to the tenth annual holiday decorations program at the Oakland Auditorium, November 6 through 9, is being sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Garden Club on November 8. Reservations, available to anyone who is interested, are being taken at the Carmel Foundation and at Creative Crafts (MA 4-3342). Buses will leave around 8:00 o'clock in the morning and return around 6:00 o'clock. Theme of this year's program is Christmas Reflections.

Stanford Mothers' Club

The Stanford Mothers' Club chrysanthemum tea, main fundraising event for the organization's scholarships, will be held on Thursday, November 9, in Florence Moore Hall on the Stanford University campus. Tickets and information are available to local Stanford mothers by telephoning Mrs. Frank M. June, FR 5-3603, or Mrs. Richard White, MA 4-2606. The tea is the high point of the year for the group and is expected to attract Stanford mothers from all over the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Payne Back

Mr. and Mrs. Rollo Payne of Carmel returned from Los Angeles Sunday where they celebrated the sixtieth wedding anniversary of Mrs. Payne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Nash. Mrs. Ralph Gibson of Portland, Oregon, a niece of Mrs. Nash, visited in Carmel and accompanied the Paynes to Los Angeles for the celebration.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

How to avoid the mistakes of the past will be brought out Sunday in all Christian Science churches.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Everlasting Punishment" is the Golden Text from the Bible: "Where doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins? Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord" (Lam. 3).

One of the citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "Mortals move onward towards good or evil as time glides on. If mortals are not progressive, past failures will be repeated until all wrong work is effaced or rectified. . . . The divine method of paying sin's wages involves unwinding one's snarls, and learning from experience how to divide between sense and soul" (p. 240).

ORDINANCE NO. 31

AN ORDINANCE FIXING THE AMOUNT PAYABLE FOR NON CONTRIBUTING PROPERTY THAT MAY BE ANNEXED TO THE DISTRICT

WHEREAS, the Carmel Sanitary District has constructed a sewage treatment plant with its necessary appurtenances and from time to time has made additions thereto, and

WHEREAS, sewers and sewer appurtenances have also been constructed and installed by said district, and

WHEREAS, lands now outside the district may be annexed to the district and benefit by the use of the treatment plant facilities, sewers and their appurtenances now constructed and installed, and

WHEREAS, it is just and equitable that any lands which have not been assessed to pay the cost of sewer improvements, nor contributed to the cost of the treatment plant, facilities, sewers and appurtenances installed in said district, shall contribute to the cost thereof;

NOW, THEREFORE, the Board of the Carmel Sanitary District does ordain as follows:

Section 1: DEFINITIONS.
REAL PROPERTY: Land that is improved or unimproved by dwellings.

DWELLING, ACCESSORY: A subordinate building the use of which is incidental to that of a single family dwelling on the same building site, lot or parcel of land.

DWELLING, ONE-FAMILY: A detached building designed for, or occupied by one family.

GARAGE, PRIVATE: An accessory building.

GUEST HOUSE: Detached living quarters of a permanent type of construction and without kitchen or kitchen equipment.

Section 2: A real property may hereafter be annexed to the district and be permitted to connect to the plant facilities, sewers and appurtenances until contribution therefor is made.

Section 3: The cost of contribution for annexation of said land shall be ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS ($100.00) for each building site as shown on subdivision map recorded in the County Recorder's Office of Monterey County, California, or as shown on a tentative subdivision map where the land is in the process of being subdivided provided the area of said building site is less than one acre and further provided the improvements thereon, or allowed thereon by law, do not exceed a single family dwelling together with not more than two accessory buildings, only one of which may be a guest house.

Section 4: If the aforesaid building site exceeds one acre in area, then the contribution shall be made at the rate of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS ($100.00) per acre.

Section 5: If it is provided by law that the construction on the aforesaid building sites may exceed one single family dwelling and two accessory buildings, then the amount of contribution shall be decided by the board of the district.

Section 6: If the land to be annexed is not subdivided and is not in the process of being subdivided, and by law construction of improvements in the area to be annexed is limited to one single family dwelling and two accessory buildings per acre then the amount of the contribution shall be ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS ($100.00) per acre.

Section 7: If the land to be annexed is not subdivided and is not in the process of being subdivided and by law construction of improvements in the area to be annexed is not limited to one single family dwelling and two accessory buildings, then the amount of the contribution shall be determined by the board.

Section 8: If the land to be annexed is in the process of being rezoned then the amount of contribution shall be determined by the Board.

Section 9: Whenever annexed land is divided or rezoned after annexation so that the burden of the sanitary sewage facilities is increased, then an additional charge or contribution is to be determined by the board.

Section 10: The amount of the aforesaid annexation costs is to be paid the district before the annexation of the property by the district.

Section 11: This ordinance does not include any amount due for the use of sewers (1) where the annexing landowner makes use of sewers installed pursuant to Ordinance 16 of the District, or (2) where the annexing landowner makes use of sewers that have been installed by landowners pursuant to contract with the Board of the District subject to reimbursement by subsequent users of the sewer.

Section 12: This ordinance modifies or repeals previous ordinances relating to contribution. Ordinances 8, 20 and 22 are hereby repealed and all ordinances and parts of ordinances and resolutions, insofar as they conflict with this ordinance, are hereby repealed.

Section 13: This ordinance shall be in full force and effect one week from the date of its publication.

Passed and adopted by the Board of the Carmel Sanitary District at an adjourned regular meeting this 17th day of October, 1961, by the following vote:

AYES, Members: Knight, Pruitt, Sassoon and Shepard.

NOES, Members: None.

ABSENT, Members: Neill.

Shower for Suzanne

Honoree at a miscellaneous shower late last week at the Walter Stuefloten home in Carmel Valley was Suzanne Belvail, whose marriage to Francis Schuetz will be celebrated December 9 in Lakeport, California.

The bride-elect, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Belvail, former Carmelites now of Kelseyville, California, is a graduate of Carmel High School who attended the University of California at Davis during the past two years.

The future benedict, now with the California Fish and Game Department, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Schuetz of Carmel and a recent Davis graduate.

Pink and white floral arrangements and wedding bells decorated the Stuefloten home last Friday evening. Co-hostess with Mrs. Stuefloten was Mrs. Verna Davis.

Among guests who wished Suzanne happiness and shared the ceremonial cake, also decorated with wedding bells, were both her grandmothers, Mrs. John Belvail, long-time Carmelite now of Kelseyville, and Mrs. Evelyn McLaughlin of Salinas, whom Suzanne has been visiting for the past several weeks; her great aunt, Mrs. Mildred White of Kelseyville; her mother, and a family friend, Mrs. Anne Alexander of Salinas.

Symphony Guild Party

A fashion show and dance, which will be in the form of a benefit event for the Monterey County Symphony Guild, has been planned for Friday evening from 6:30 to 9:30 o'clock in the Carmel Plaza, according to Mrs. David Gill, this year's guild president. Fashions will be by I. Magnin, music by Herb Miller's band.

Co-chairmen for the dance with Mrs. Gill are Mrs. Charles O'Gara and Mrs. David Wisnom Jr. Sponsors for the party include: Mr. and Mrs. Shreve Archer, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Talcott Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKay Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bunn, Mr. and Mrs. J. Entertain Edgar Ansel Mowrer

Nationally syndicated news columnist Edgar Ansel Mowrer, who will speak here tomorrow night under the sponsorship of the World Affairs Council of the Monterey Peninsula and the Carmel Adult School, during his Carmel visit will be the houseguest of Captain John H. Morse (USN Ret.) and Mrs. Morse of Rancho Rio Vista.

Following his lecture, Colonel and Mrs. Austin De Camp will give a reception in Mr. Mowrer's honor at their home on Scenic Drive. Invited to meet him will be "dedicated" members of the World Affairs Council.

Both Captain Morse and Colonel De Camp have known Mr. Mowrer for a long time and are eagerly anticipating the pleasure of extending to him the hospitality of their Carmel homes.

At Town House

The making of Christmas cards, decorations and gifts will be the subject of a demonstration by Miss Louise Cutler next Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock in the Carmel Foundation Town House.

Miss Cutler, co-owner of the Creative Crafts Shop, will be the special speaker, assisted by Dr. Paula Tobias and Mrs. Eunice Messent, who will demonstrate the uses of leaves, sea weed and ferns in making greeting cards. Miss Cutler will show decorated styrofoam balls, topiary trees and miniatures.

Workshops in these projects will be scheduled at the Town House November 6-10. In addition to the visiting speakers, leaders of the regular Wednesday morning craft groups in stitchery and rug making will also show gifts to be made, and so will the enamel-on-copper workshop on Mondays.

Culture Vultures Meeting

A meeting for members of the Culture Vultures group will be held on November 2 at 8:00 o'clock in the evening in the Silk Horse Lounge of the U. S. Naval Postgraduate School. Carmel sculptor and woodcarver Howell Armor will be the speaker. All persons planning to attend are asked to telephone Mrs. Paul Smith, Culture Vultures president, at FR 2-9072.

relatively dry, the board felt that this fact only cuts down on the chances of seeing another dry winter.

Elston said a crash construction program, with shifts working a 24-hour day, is not popular with contractors because of the almost prohibitive expense of floodlighting, extra supervisory personnel (three supervisors, one for each shift), and the loss of efficiency when one shift takes over from another.

The contract for the new school as it now stands contains three additive alternates: an amount to be added for asphalt tile in all buildings, an amount for installation of carpeting in the library, and the substitution of an improved Perfect Vision lighting system.

The board, which hopes to be able to include the newer lighting system in the plans, is now awaiting word from the manufacturer on results of testing on the new product, since use of an untested system will not receive state approval.

Making a final decision on the long-discussed problem of a septic tank vs. joining the Carmel Sanitary District, the board voted unanimously to authorize the superintendent to write the sanitary board asking that the petition for annexation of the school property at the mouth of Carmel Valley to the sanitary district be held in abeyance.

The action followed a study session with the district board October 17, where school trustees learned that cost of annexation alone would run possibly as high as $20,000, and that should there be difficulty with a septic tank and the school were already in the district, the sanitary board would have the power to insist on sewer installation (which would amount to some $170,000 since no adjoining property owners are yet in the district) at school expense.

Also at the school board meeting last night trustees heard a letter from the State Division of Highways in San Luis Obispo promising that "sidewalk facilities will be provided along Carmel Valley Road through the interchange area under the ultimate freeway." The letter went on, however, to remind the board, which had asked the state for its plans on pedestrian lanes in this area, that no date has been set or money allocated for construction of this portion of the freeway.

On the same topic, a communication came from the Monterey County Board of Supervisors offering an encroachment to the school district for construction of a safe path on the south side of Ocean Avenue between Hatton Road and Carpenter Street, if the school district itself wanted to undertake the work. The district had requested the supervisors to consider doing something about providing the safe path for students walking to school.

Among other reports heard by the board was one from the committee on extra pay vs. compensation time, which recommended that "the high school staff set up a committee to evaluate extra-curricular responsibilities of every staff member" taking the responsibility out of administrative hands. The report pointed out that "the best philosophy seems to be to allow compensatory time where there is a disproportionate amount of extra-curricular time spent by teachers" and that "the committee wants to have the present balance of load evaluated to see if some of the present inequities may be adjusted."

The board also yesterday evening accepted the resignation of second grade Tularcitos instructor Mrs. Jo Ann Warner and ratified a contract hiring a replacement, Mrs. Wendee W. Smith.

Roy Horning

Roy Arthur Horning of Carmel Hills died Tuesday evening at a local hospital. He had been ill for several months.

A former executive with the Armstrong Cork Company of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, he moved to the Carmel area four years ago. He was a native of Hattonsville, Illinois, born April 4, 1893, and a veteran of World War I. He retired from his Pennsylvania firm in 1957 after 42 years service and lived for a brief time in Florida before coming to establish a home here. He lived on Flanders Drive at Ward Place.

Mr. Horning was a member of Prairie Lodge No. 77, F and AM, of Paris, Illinois, the Valley of Newcasle, Scottish Rite Consistory, Zumbo Shrine Temple of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and the Monterey Shrine Club.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Dorothy S. Horning; a daughter, Mrs. Lois H. Moyer of Devon, Pennsylvania; four sons, Richard H., of Niles, California; David A., of Pittsburgh; Anthony W., Sacramento, and Roy A. Horning, of Carmel; two sisters, Mrs. June Malone of Plainfield, New Jersey, and Mrs. Robert Reynolds of Martinsburg, West Virginia; a brother, Bruce Horning of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, and 11 grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, followed by burial in River View Cemetery there. The Paul Mortuary is in charge of local arrangements.

Local memorial services will be held Friday morning at 11:30 o'clock in the main chapel at the Church of the Wayfarer.

Gifts in memory of Mr. Horning may be sent to the Monterey County Cancer Society.

Pine Needles...

Saturday Nuptials at Highlands

Carmel Highlands Chapel, decked for the occasion in the greenery of smilax, was the setting for the late-afternoon wedding Saturday of Miss Mary Louise Price and Edwin John Moore Jr.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fletcher Price of Hatton Road, chose an afternoon-length gown of white satin with a Belgian lace veil and carried orchids and stephanotis. She was given in marriage by her father.

The Reverend Karel V. Vit officiated at the 4:00 o'clock ceremony, and the bride was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Dale Hankins of Washington, D.C., and her close friend, Mrs. Guy Remsen of Carmel. Mrs. Hankins wore a purple costume and Mrs. Remsen a green to highlight the autumnal color theme of the rites.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Price chose a blue satin sheath on which she planned a pale pink corsage and wore a pink hat of matching hue.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Moore Sr., of Milford, Connecticut, had asked a friend, Jack Kaufman of Monterey, to serve as best man.

A wedding dinner at the Highlands Inn followed the ceremony. Out-of-town guests here for the wedding and dinner included two aunts of the bride, Mrs. Maury Hughes of Dallas, Texas, and Mrs. Thomas Kern of Washington, D.C.; the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney McCleave and Mary Ford McCleave of Berkeley; and two friends from the Prices' former home town, Cincinnati, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Short.

Prior to the wedding another Cincinnati friend of Mary Lou's, Mrs. Powell Glick, had given an absentee linen shower in the Ohio city and mailed the gifts West for the newlyweds to use in their new home in Petaluma. They left for Petaluma following the ceremony.

The bridegroom, a graduate of the Korean department of the Army Language School at the Presidio of Monterey, is now stationed at Two Rock Ranch Army post in the Petaluma area. A former student at Yale University, he has 16 months of military duty yet to be served.

Mary Lou, a resident of Carmel since her family moved here two years ago, attended schools in Wyoming, Ohio, and graduated in philosophy and sociology from the University of Delaware.

In addition to the absentee shower, the bride was honored at another pre-wedding event last week when Mrs. Herbert Wagner entertained for her with a shower at the Wagner home in Carmel.

Parties for Judy, bride-elect Judith Ann Reams, whose wedding to William Brownlee Parham Jr., will be an event of this Saturday at Carmel Valley Community Chapel, has been the honoree at a number of recent parties given by relatives and friends. Her grandmother, Mrs. Edith Larson of Carmel, was hostess to Judy and other family members at a bride's dinner last Saturday evening at the French Poodle restaurant. Chrysanthemums and roses decorated the festive table.

Invited were, in addition to Judy, her mother, Mrs. Walter Reams of Carmel Valley; her aunt, Mrs. Truman Scarlett; her cousins, Mrs. Michael (Tracy) Scarlett; Ricketts and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Scarlett; and her future parents-in-law, Captain and Mrs. William Brownlee Parham Sr., of Washington, D.C., who are the houseguests of Mrs. Larson.

Bridal showers followed on Monday and Tuesday evenings, the former at the home of Mrs. Larson and the latter, with Judy's prospective maid-of-honor, Miss Susan Wiseman, as hostess, in the white man home in Monterey.

Housewarming Party

Friends of Mrs. Rosemarie Davies visited her new home in Carmel last night bearing the food and drink for a potluck housewarming party. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wenzlik, Mr. William Ober of Palo Alto, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kendrick and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hawkins.

Tote Gotes Banned From All But Four Los Padres Trails

All trails of the Monterey Division of Los Padres National Forest, except four, will be closed to tote gotes, jeeps or other motorized vehicles on November 15, according to U. S. Forest Service Regional Forester Charles A. Connaughton.

This action is to prevent excessive erosion damage to trails and the surrounding land; also for the safety of hikers and horseback riders.

The four trails to be left open to motorized travel are the Santa Lucia Creek Trail; the connecting trail to the top of Junipero Serra Peak; the section of the Santa Lucia Peak Trail from Junipero Serra Peak to Pinyon Peak Lookout; and east to the Forest boundary; the Memorial Park fire trail to Cone Peak Lookout. This permits two-wheeled vehicles to travel from the Salinas Valley to the coast.

All of the trails are in the Santa Lucia Mountains in Monterey County. The Forest Service suggests consulting with the local district ranger before attempting any trip over National Forest trails.

POLICE COLUMN

Carmel police dealt with thefts from cars, minors possessing liquor, and an automobile accident this week.

Removed from locked cars on Saturday night or early Sunday morning were a set of binoculars and a movie camera, also three sets of golf clubs. Elmer A. Wenden Jr., of San Anselmo reported the first loss. The golf clubs were reported missing by a visitor from Los Angeles.

Monday afternoon, 4:05 o'clock, Derek Appleton, 6, was hurt when his bike collided with a car driven by Gaudele Tremblay at Guadalupe and Fifth. He was taken to Peninsula Community Hospital in the Red Cross ambulance operated by members of the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department, suffering from head injuries.

Arrested on Carmel Beach for possessing narcotics were two 18-year-old Bay area youths, Stephen M. McLaughlin of Berkeley and John P. Kelly of Oakland. They were each fined $52.50 in Monterey Municipal Court. The arrests were made at different times, McLaughlin on Saturday and Kelly Sunday.

Michael du Gardyn

Michael du Gardyn, of Carmel Valley, was found dead in his home last Thursday. A resident of the area for the past decade, he suffered from a cardiac condition.

Vesper services were held Monday at the Mission Mortuary for Mr. du Gardyn, who was employed as bartender at La Playa Hotel. Requiem Mass followed Tuesday morning at Carmel Basilica, with burial in Monterey Catholic Cemetery.

He was born December 25, 1909, in Bruges, Belgium, and was a member of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Carmel Valley. A son, Geoffrey S. du Gardyn of Grand Forks Air Base, North Dakota, survives him.

Merchants React Various To Paying Double License Fees

their reaction to the proposal of the business association's parking committee.

Members of the committee are Enos Fouratt, Clayton B. Neill Jr., Bob Spencer, Senator Fred Farr, Robert Drennan, Harold Smithson, Mrs. Earlene Bell and Mrs. Gladys Johnston.

Following is the reaction of persons queried about the double license fee plan by the Pine Cone.

J. O. Handley, proprietor of a building supply firm, thinks the proposal to double business license fees, "A wonderful idea, providing the city provides matching funds."

"The parking lots will do me no good whatsoever, but what helps the merchants, helps me in the end," he added.

Carmel realtor Corum Jackson comments on double business licenses as follows, "The proposal has merit if the extra money is specifically earmarked for acquiring off-street parking and does not go into the city's general fund. It's been proven we need close-in parking. People won't walk several blocks to reach the shopping district."

Harold Nielsen, grocer, who provides off-street parking now for his customers, says, "The double business license tax seems the only way to get parking lots. Maybe if we have them they will keep some of the sleepers off our lot and leave room for our customers."

Barnet Segal, who has a savings and loan company in Carmel, when asked what he thought of doubling business licenses for parking lots, replied, "Not much."

Mr. Segal thinks it's no use to raise money for off-street parking, then try to find lots to purchase for this purpose. He feels the business people always carry the burden and would like to see the city show some "spirit" and go out and find suitable property for parking lots.

What parking areas the city now has are planted with trees and rocks, he maintains.

"I have a 28-space parking lot for my employees and customers," he emphasized.

Harry Hilbert operates a creamery on Ocean Avenue. His reaction to the business association's answer to the parking problem is, "I don't approve. At least, as they put it now." Mr. Hilbert wants more time to consider the parking matter, he indicated.

James Womble, owner of a drug store at Ocean Avenue and San Carlos, told the Pine Cone he doesn't think much of the business association committee's idea to raise money for parking lots.

"But if the majority of the merchants want double licenses for lots, I'm willing to go along. If they want it, I'm for it."

James Rowe, shoe store owner, stated he approved of double business licenses for parking lots.

William Arley Smith operates the only grocery store on Ocean Avenue. Asked what he thought about the double license plan, he answered, "It's grossly unfair." Mr. Smith stated that lack of parking in his area became more acute when diagonal spaces on Ocean Avenue were replaced with parallel slots. He says businesses, such as real estate firms, take up as many parking places as his customers. "The real estate firms pay only one-sixteenth of the amount I pay for my business license."

Derek Rayne, men's clothier, remarked, "I'm against it," when he was asked about double business licenses. Mr. Rayne went on to explain that he does not approve of any further expenditure by old established firms, who are "paying the traffic for the town" through their city taxes.

Mrs. Helen Dean, whose dress shop is the oldest in Carmel, says, "Lack of off-street parking is the greatest deterrent to business we have in Carmel. But I'm not ready to state what I think about this latest proposal, yet. I want to study it."

Robert A. Norton, a realtor who has lived in Carmel since childhood, thinks "No snap judgments should be made about this double license suggestion." He wants to know pros and cons of the proposal, cost of parking lots, and how many spaces will be provided with the money.

in person the local Lions' $300 scholarship check to be used by another student at the University of Vienna, a young man studying law there.

Her own future plans, Brigitte says, include finishing her thesis—she is in her final year at the Viennese school—and then entering into a career as business delegate to a foreign country. This sort of job, she explains, is something like that of a U. S. Chamber of Commerce representative abroad and involves liaison and informational work in the export-import field.

She would like very much, she said, to be assigned to America in such a position, although she loves Italy too, speaks Italian as well as English and German and has visited "all over Europe except Scandinavia."

Miss Ottitzky, who has been in America this time since June "just for a visit, not for studying," left Carmel this week bound for Chicago and New York. On October 31 she will be on the way back to Austria in time to re-enter the university.

Lecture On Africa Open To Public At MPC Tomorrow Night

A discussion of The African Personality will open the Monterey Peninsula College Critique IV series of lectures tomorrow evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Armory on campus. The public is welcome to attend without charge.

Dr. Victor Ferkiss, formerly a consultant to the Office of African Programs of the Peace Corps and currently a political science instructor at St. Mary's College and commentator on Africa for Radio Station KPFA-FM, will be the speaker.

Two subsequent lectures by Dr. Ferkiss on The African Personality are scheduled for November 3 and 10.

Carmel High Graduate Joins New Zealand University Faculty

University of California to complete work for a bachelor's degree, majoring in international relations with a minor in Arabic for two years.

He went to Spain for post-graduate study in Hispanic culture and the history of art. At the end of a year he was granted a licentiate degree by the University of Madrid. This degree corresponds to an American M.A.

Kurt travelled through Europe while abroad, also met Hildegard, then a medical technologist in Berlin.

The following year, Kurt was granted a Charles Brookes fellowship by Princeton University to work towards a Ph.D. degree in art history and married Hildegard in January 1959 in Princeton. Last year he had a Woodrow Wilson fellowship to continue study for his doctorate at Princeton. The summer between these two years, Kurt was granted a fellowship by Stanford University for intensive study of the Japanese language and he and Hildegard came to Carmel.

This semester he has been preparing a thesis on Georg Kolb, German sculptor who lives in Berlin, while Hildegard has been assisting the head of the biology department at Princeton with German translation of scientific papers.

Last Christmas vacation, Kurt and Hildegard flew to Berlin to visit the latter's parents. They plan to repeat this visit in December, then, following the end-of-semester examinations at Princeton, visit Mrs. von Meier in Carmel in January on their way to New Zealand.

Karen Steinke Wins Music Competition

competition, she will be featured with the symphony at the March concerts of the current series in Carmel, Salinas and King City.

Her background includes more than seven years of vocal study, both at the university and in private lessons. At present she is studying with Dr. Harvey Marshall. She has appeared locally in several recitals, and was a semifinalist in the 1961 northern California area Metropolitan Auditions.

Two second place winners were also chosen at the Saturday auditions. They are Ted Cross, bass-baritone from Monterey, and soprano Norma Wiley of Salinas. Mr. Cross has been heard in recital as well as in a number of musicals at the Wharf Theater. Miss Wiley, a voice teacher, has concertized extensively in the Salinas area in addition to numerous radio appearances.

The competition, which was initiated this year for soloists, composers and conductors, was judged by John Farr, music supervisor for Carmel schools and personnel manager of the symphony; Mrs. Constantine Vadetsky, former first cellist of the Monterey orchestra; Vahe Aslanian, faculty member of Hartnell College music department and conductor of the Hartnell-Community Chorus and John Gosling, conductor of the Monterey County Symphony.
